Who must complete

You must complete this schedule only if you meet all of the following conditions:

1. You are married.
2. You and your spouse are filing a joint federal income tax return for the 2001 tax year.
3. You and your spouse had different states of residence (one of which is North Dakota) for the 2001 tax year. You and your spouse had different states of residence if you fall into one of the following categories:

- Full-year resident / Full-year nonresident
One spouse is a full-year resident of North Dakota and the other spouse is a full-year nonresident.
- Full-year resident / Part-year resident
One spouse is a full-year resident of North Dakota and the other spouse is a part-year resident of North Dakota.
- Part-year resident / Full-year nonresident
One spouse is a part-year resident of North Dakota and the other spouse is a full-year nonresident.

If all of the above conditions apply, you and your spouse must file separate North Dakota returns using the “Married filing separately” filing status. This is the only exception to the requirement that a joint North Dakota return must be filed by married persons who file a joint federal return.

Note: A full-year nonresident spouse who does not have any gross income from North Dakota sources does not have to file a North Dakota return. If this applies, the other spouse must attach a statement to his or her return explaining this situation.

Purpose of schedule

The purpose of this schedule is determine the amounts that each spouse must use to complete the separate North Dakota returns.

Federal return line references—Disregard the federal income tax return line references shown on the North Dakota return and in its instructions. Instead, the separate federal tax information as determined on this schedule must be used to fill in the federal tax amounts asked for on the separate North Dakota returns. After completing this schedule, see How to complete the North Dakota return for where to enter the information from this schedule on the separate North Dakota returns.

How to complete Schedule SFStep 1

Complete Part 1, lines A through 20, to determine the separate federal taxable income for each spouse.

Step 2

The next step depends on which North Dakota return you are going to use. If both you and your spouse are going to use Form ND-1, complete the remainder of Schedule SF as follows:

- ▶ Skip lines 21a and 21b of Part 1.
- ▶ Complete Part 2, lines 1 through 17.

If both you and your spouse are going to use Form ND-2 (Optional Method), complete the appropriate part(s) of line 21.

If you are going to use Form ND-1 and your spouse is going to use Form ND-2 (or vice versa), complete both Part 1 and Part 2.

Step 3

See How to complete the North Dakota return for instructions on how to transfer the information from Schedule SF to Form ND-1 or Form ND-2, whichever applies. After transferring the information, complete the remainder of the North Dakota return using the regular instructions.

Specific line instructions for Part 1Lines A and B

Enter your names and social security numbers in the appropriate columns. Column B is for the full-year resident spouse, and Column C is for the full-year nonresident or part-year resident spouse.

Exception: If you fall into the category in which one spouse is a part-year resident and the other spouse is a full-year nonresident, the part-year resident spouse must use Column B and write “Part-year resident” in the gray box at the top of the column. The full-year nonresident spouse must use Column C.

Lines 1 through 16

Enter the amounts from the joint federal return on the appropriate lines in Column A. Enter the portion of the amount in Column A belonging to each spouse in Columns B and C. Amounts from jointly owned property must be divided equally between the spouses.

Special instructions for lines 4 and 8—The amount of capital gains and losses (on line 4) and the amount of social security benefits (on line 8) reportable by each spouse must be determined using the federal rules that would apply to the filing of separate federal returns. Enter the separate amounts in Columns B and C first, and then enter the total of the separate amounts in Column A. This may cause the amounts in Column A to differ from the actual amounts on the joint federal return.

Line 18

Standard deduction—If you used the standard deduction on your federal return, enter in Column A the amount from your federal income tax return as follows:

- If you used Form 1040, enter the amount from line 36.
- If you used Form 1040A, enter the amount from line 22.
- If you used Form 1040EZ, and the “No” box on line 5 was checked, enter $7,600. Or, if the “Yes” box on line 5 was checked, enter the amount from line E of the Worksheet For Dependents (on the back of Form 1040EZ).
- If you used TeleFile to file your federal return, enter the amount from line J (the “Standard Deduction” box) of your TeleFile Tax Record.

Enter in Columns B and C the portion of the amount in Column A that would have been allowed to each spouse had separate federal returns been filed. Attach a supporting statement.

Itemized deductions—If you filed Federal Form 1040 and claimed itemized deductions instead of the standard deduction, enter the amount from Schedule A (Form 1040), line 28, in Column A. Multiply this amount by the spouse’s ratio on line 17 and enter the result in the appropriate column.

Line 19

Enter in Column A the amount from your federal income tax return as follows:

- If you used Federal Form 1040, enter the amount from line 38.
- If you used Federal Form 1040A, enter the amount from line 24.
- If you used Federal Form 1040EZ, and the “No” box on line 5 was checked, enter $5,800. Or, if the “Yes” box on line 5 was checked, enter the amount from line F of the Worksheet For Dependents (on the back of Form 1040EZ).
- If you used Federal TeleFile, enter the amount from line J (the “Exemption Amount” box).

Determine the amount to enter in Columns B and C as follows:

1. Each spouse must claim his or her own personal exemption of $2,900 (if not claimed as a dependent by another taxpayer).
2. Exemptions for dependents, if any, must be allocated between the spouses as follows: Multiply the number of dependents by $2,900. Multiply this result by the spouse’s ratio on line 17 and round to the nearest whole exemption amount of $2,900.

Example: John and Mary have three dependent children. They would multiply $2,900 by 3 to get $8,700. If John’s ratio (on line 17) is .75 (75%), he would multiply $8,700 by .75 to get $6,525. Rounding this to the nearest whole exemption he would claim $5,800, and Mary would claim $2,900.

Line 21aFull-year resident using Form ND-2

Enter in Column A the amount from your federal income tax return as follows:

- If you used Form 1040EZ, enter the amount from line 11 less line 9a.
- If you used Form 1040A, enter the amount from line 34 less lines 39a and 40. Do not include any alternative minimum tax.
- If you used TeleFile to file your federal return, enter the amount from line K (the "Tax" box) less line L (add the amounts in both boxes) of your TeleFile Tax Record.
- If you used Form 1040, complete the worksheet (for line 26, Schedule 2) on page 10 of the Form ND-2 instruction booklet.

Reduce the amount on this line by the 2001 federal income tax rebate. Multiply the amount in Column A by the ratio on line 17 of Column B, and enter the result on line 21a of Column B.

Line 21bFull-year nonresident or part-year resident using Form ND-2

Enter in Column A the amount from your federal income tax return as follows:

- If you used Form 1040EZ, enter the amount from line 11 less line 9a.
- If you used Form 1040A, enter the amount from line 34 less lines 39a and 40. Do not include any alternative minimum tax.
- If you used TeleFile to file your federal return, enter the amount from line K (the "Tax" box) less line L (add the amounts in both boxes) of your TeleFile Tax Record.
- If you used Form 1040, complete the worksheet (for Schedule 3, page 1, line 11) on page 12 of the Form ND-2 instruction booklet.

Reduce the amount on this line by the 2001 federal income tax rebate. Multiply the amount in Column A by the ratio on line 17 of Column C, and enter the result on line 21b of Column C.

Exception: If you fall into the category in which one spouse is a part-year resident and the other spouse is a full-year nonresident, the part-year resident spouse must use Column B and the full-year nonresident spouse must use Column C. In this case, multiply the amount in Column A by the spouse's ratio on line 17, and enter the result on line 21b in the appropriate column.

Specific line instructions for Part 2
